"Sharp-shinned hawks, fifty cents; Cooper's hawk, fifty cents; crow, fifteen cents; great-horned owl, fifty cents; minks, one dollar; and weasels, one dollar. No bounty shall be paid for the killing of crows, however, except those killed in April, May, June, July, August and September."

To entitle any person to the bounties above mentioned, the applicant must produce before the Clerk of this Board, the head of said birds or animals, and not only the bills, as heretofore.

On and after August 1st, this Board will pay the bounties above mentioned to persons complying with the requirements of said Act.

The Federal Farm Loan Situation

All business of the Federal Farm Loan system has been suspended pending action by the United States Supreme Court as to the constitutionality of the act. The Federal Land Bank can get money for farmers only by selling its bonds to investors; and investors will not buy low interest-rate bonds until the court declares they are tax-free. And the Supreme Court will make no decision until next fall.

"In my community", as one friend writes The Progressive Farmer, "a number of people had applied for loans, and now find themselves in a very embarrassing position, with their loans held up, and important farming projects blocked at a time which will mean a whole year's loss." From all parts of the South similar reports are reaching us. Both town and country should be interested in this matter, for every handicap to farm work and farm progress means higher food prices for city consumers.

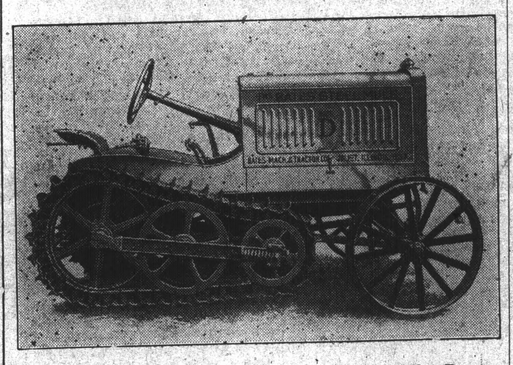
Every Inch of the Bates Steel Mule is Thoroughbred



The United States government by means of the Department of Agriculture, has been looking into the tractor question, and its bulletins clearly proves that the satisfied tractor owner—men who say that the tractor has paid—are men who own the BETTER CLASS of tractors. The successful man has learned years ago that he can't get something for nothing. No one can. The reason the BATES STEEL MULE costs more is that it is worth more. Skilled factory procedure, quantity production and the most modern Machinery enables us to save money at every turn, yet the BATES STEEL MULE cost slightly more in the beginning to build but considerably less in the long run to own. It's just another case where a seemingly higher priced article is far cheapest to own when you come to actually USE it.

The Bates thoroughbred quality comes not from mere claims, but from what's put into it. Every part that goes to make up the BATES STEEL Mule is put there by long field experience. There isn't a part that isn't time-tried and tested. There isn't a part that experience has'nt dictated the shape and size of; and in it all there isn't one superfluous part, nor one part that isn't capable of standing up under twice the strain it gets in actual use. These are things experience and practice have distracted. The BATES comes to you as a fulfillment of your desire for a tractor that will endure. Price is what we pay for a thing. Value is what we get out of it. Consider your tractor from what you will get out of it, consider how many working days you have when the ground is wet, consider the operations where you can not afford to pack your seed bed, and consider how constantly and economically they must be performed, even in rush times, you will then see why the BATES STEEL MULE is the biggest value offerd in any tractor on the American market today.
